

UK Italy Green Finance Round Table

Green finance is a broad term that can refer to investments in sustainable projects and environmental products. It is widely accepted that more work needs to be done on the definition of what green finance means in practice. On Thursday 25th January British Ambassador to Italy, Jill Morris, will host a Green Finance Round Table at the Bocconi University in Milan, inviting a discussion on “What makes ‘green’ green?”. Experts from the UK, Italy and European Commission will explore the critical issue of how to align green standards and achieve market scale.
